In the past designations have been made in Washington which necessitated the assignment of an individual to a specified permanent post even though, after arrival at [ ] such an assignment was found unsuitable. Mr. [ ] Chief of MECA, stated his views to [ ] during their trip to the area and emphasized the limitations of this procedure. It is [ ] belief that more efficient operations will result if a permanent assignment is decided upon after the individual has been oriented and observed during a period of temporary duty in [ ]. It was agreed by all present that future assignments of this nature would be made temporarily to [ ] that after a due observation period, Mr. [ ] would recommend a permanent assignment for each individual.
